A Publication of the Naval Postgraduate School

August 9, 1990

TRW Inc. technicians watched as the Naval Postgraduate School's Fleet Satellite Communications Systems satellite arrived on campus Aug. 1. The satellite's arrival meant that NPS is the first university in the nation to own an operational satellite. Supporting electrical equipment had already arrived.

More bus runs for La Mesa construction confusion, parking shortage cited

Bus service between La Mesa Village and NPS will be greatly expanded beginning next week with 10 daily runs replacing the current two.

Cdr. Ron Hills, assistant director of military operations, said the extra runs are being provided to help alleviate traffic and parking congestion at the school due to increased student population and construction projects beginning soon.

Hills said the route through La Mesa will follow the same pick-up points now serviced. All drop offs at NPS would be at Engineering Circle adjacent to the academic quad, he said.

For next week only (Aug. 13-17), rides both ways will be free of charge. Beginning Aug. 20, rides will cost 50 cents or one ticket. Ticket books will soon go on sale in the recreation office. Cost will be $9 for a 20-ticket book, or $20 for a 50-ticket book.

Hills said spring quarter tickets are no longer valid, but can be turned in for a partial refund in tickets. For example, spring quarter ticket holders may be able to exchange $3 worth of old tickets for $2 worth of new tickets, Hills said.

Navy Seabees will handle driving duties until civilian bus drivers are hired. The first morning run will commence near the Bergen gate at 7 a.m.

Family asks your help after child's death

Jessica Michaels, daughter of Lt. Cmdr. Jim and Janice Michaels of Virginia Beach, died Sunday, Aug. 5.

Jessica was a Downs Syndrome baby with severe complications from birth. Priblems from the beginning included no esophagus, severe heart cavity malformations, and others too numerous to mention. It was a miracle she lived longer than a month. Doctors were surprised that Jessica recovered from several operations to correct adverse medical conditions she suffered from. Her organs finally failed last week.

The Michaels have depended on CHAMPUS to pay most of their medical expenses, but they remain saddled with bills not covered under deductibles and other items.

Personnel able to help should make checks payable to London Bridge Baptist Church in care of Jessica Michaels. Mark the check for "Jessica Michaels." Place the check in an envelope and leave it with the secretary in the Aero Curriculum office (Code 31) in Halligan Hall. Donations must be received by Aug. 15.

For more information, call Mike or Ann Shelton at 372-1147.

Environment, NPS benefits from La Mesa village recycling

Residents of La Mesa Village have a chance to help clean the environment and earn money for the Naval Postgraduate School at the same time.

An aluminum can recycling test program is being conducted this month with the full backing of the superintendent.

Personnel living on Gillespie Lane, Revere Road, Mervine Street, Biddle Lane or quarters 1 to 116 on Shubrick Road can help by doing one of the following:

- 1. Pack aluminum cans in a plastic bag and place on the curb in front of your quarters by 7 p.m. Thursdays for pick-up. Cans in the green Monterey disposal bins will not be picked up, only those in plastic bags. Replacement bags are available for those requesting them.

- 2. Bring cans to the La Mesa Store Depository.

- 3. Bring cans to 5 Revere Road and drop off next to the carport.

- 4. For large quantity pick-up, call 655-2170 and leave your address and location of cans.

All proceeds will be turned over to the Naval Postgraduate School Foundation for distribution to: (1) Class Gift Fund (20 percent); (2) Officer Students' Wives Club (20 percent), (3) International Fund (20 percent), (4) Morale Welfare and Recreation (20 percent) and (5) NPSF General Fund (20 percent).

This trial program is being coordinated by Cmdr. Terry Tiernay at ext. 2228.
